W. German Cabinet Ratifies Paris Pact

Predict Fight In Parliament

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Cabinet overrode a rebellion by five ministers Friday and approved the Paris agreements to bring West Germany into the Western defense alliance.

Bills to ratify the agreements were sent immediately to Parliament amid predictions by Adenauer and his party leaders that ratification will be completed by mid-January. But there were indications of rough sailing ahead.

Four Cabinet ministers of the Free Democratic party — West Germany's third largest — and a member of Adenauer's own Christian Democrats stood up and said "No" when the Cabinet voted.

This made the vote 18 to 5 for the agreements with 1 minister absent.

This was the first open rebellion in Adenauer's Cabinet on a major foreign policy issue and it made the Cabinet decision a questionable victory for the 78-year-old Chancellor.

The opposition of the five ministers was directed against the controversial French-German agreement to make the German populated Saar a "European" territory. This agreement is one of the Paris accords.

The Free Democrats maintain the strategic industrial Saar will be lost to Germany permanently if this agreement is ratified. They approve the other Paris agreements to restore German sovereignty, create a West German union and admit West Germany into NATO.

Parliamentary officials said preliminary approval of the Paris pacts by the Bundestag (lower house of Parliament) is now possible before Christmas as a result of Friday's Cabinet decision. The Bundestag (upper house), composed of ministers of the nine states, first will consider the pacts and send its recommendations to the federal government. Then the government will send the pacts to state ratifiers. After the Bundestag gives final approval the Bundestag will act.

Experts On Russia Say U.S. Prestige Has Slipped

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Associated Press experts on Russia and the Far East said Friday American prestige abroad has slipped a great deal in the past two years and something needs to be done now to revive it.

The writers, Robert Emswiler and William L. Ryan, told newspaper editors attending the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. convention that the American press could help in this effort by keeping the public fully informed on world affairs.

They said the Kremlin is directing a skillful propaganda campaign everywhere in the free world designed to create turmoil and poison minds against Americans, and that the United States needed to do a better propaganda job of its own.

Ryan, AP's foreign analyst who spent some time in Moscow, offered this explanation for the general decline in American prestige:

"When the war was over people concluded there would be a great new world in which the United States would help everybody."

"On top of that the Soviets have built up tension over talk of American belligerency, and in Indochina and a few other countries we have been represented as having ambitions toward colonialism."

"All boiled down there is this thing of fear. Fear is the greatest enemy that is militating against us."

Emswiler, AP chief of bureau for Japan and Korea, said Japan and its vast industries are the big plums sought by the Soviets in the Far East. But he said Communist efforts there are unlikely to succeed.

One of the strong forces which Emswiler said were at work to keep Japan out of the clutches of communism was the historic achievement of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whose victory without vindictiveness looms greater with every passing year as a triumph of humanity and wisdom."

Hermann Field Meets Wife In Switzerland

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—Hermann Field reached the free world Friday after five years in a Communist prison in Poland and immediately disappeared once more.

With the aid of Swiss and U. S. officials, he was whisked away to an undisclosed place for a long-awaited reunion with his wife, Katy, and sister, Dr. Elsie Field of Urbana, Ill.

Police here said Field, a former Cleveland Ohio architect had gone into hiding in a Zurich hotel with his family and they were under strict instructions not to say which one.

Hermann was released from prison three weeks ago. He had been spending some time in a Warsaw sanatorium. His brother, Noel, and sister-in-law, Herta, released this week by the Hungarians, were in Budapest recuperating. Hermann disappeared while searching for Noel and Herta.

But the atmosphere of mystery and hush-hush that has surrounded the case of the Field family since they dropped from sight persisted even in free Switzerland.

In Washington Henry Strydom, the U. S. State Department press officer, denied the department was in any way involved in difficulties in Zurich by newsmen in their attempt to reach Field.

But an official of the U. S. consulate in Zurich drove the Field family to their undisclosed destination and did some maneuvering in his car to throw newsmen off the trail.

Hermann arrived at Zurich Airport from Prague at 12:50 p.m. Zurich time and was whisked out of sight by Hermann Bernasconi, a U. S. consulate official.

Police and airport officials kept all newsmen and photographers from close contact with Field. Officials in Zurich believe Noel, a prewar State Department employee, and his wife may also come to Switzerland.

Mrs. Field and Hermann's sister, arrived in Zurich from London Thursday night—also surrounded by official security measures. They were both at the airport to meet Field Friday. Their first reunion took place out of sight in the seclusion of the airport police offices.

U. S. Consul General Howard Donovan told newsmen U. S. officials would probably have no further direct interest in Field.

"I am sure that whatever they wanted to find out from Field was found out long ago in Warsaw," he said. "I understand Field now just wants to rest and be left alone."

U.S. Deficit Over $7 Billion, July Through Oct. 31

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury announced Friday it went $7,106,000,000 in the red during the first four months of the current fiscal year.

This was despite a sharp cut in spending and because receipts were down. It compared with last year's red ink figure of $6,251,000,000 for the like period.

The Treasury's budget statement for the government's finances from July 1 through Oct. 31, made public today, said:

1. Spending came to $21,436,000,000, compared with $22,864,000,000—during the July-October period last year.

2. Net tax receipts were $14,329,000,000, compared with $16,613,000,000.

The deficit customarily each year runs up sharply from July through December, which is a period of low tax receipts, and then drops from January to June because of the heavy spring flow of tax receipts.

Court Convicts Officer For Mistreating Trainees

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Second Lt. Charles C. Anderson, 24-year-old Korean combat veteran, was convicted by courtmartial Friday of mistreating Army trainees at Camp Gordon and dismissed from the service.

A general court-martial also ordered him to forfeit all allowances.

A 10-man court found Anderson guilty of charges that he mistreated trainees by ordering one man hung from a tree by the ankles and acquitted him of charges that he ordered excessive physical exercise for others as disciplinary measure.

Anderson, a native of St. Louis, who won an officer's commission at Ft. Benning, Ga., after returning from Korea, testified he used tough measures to "shape up" Co. A of the 1st Regiment, which he described as "slovenly." He said he was given only 11 days in which to get the company into shape.

The court deliberated two hours over evidence introduced at a four-day trial.

The charges against Anderson resulted in removal of Col. James O. Wade as commanding officer of the camp's replacement training center, Brig. Gen. Francis Howard, commander of Camp Gordon, relieved Wade for "failing to investi-

Russia Still Suffers From Capitalistic Hangover: Volin

LONDON (AP)—Anatoly A. Volin, chief justice of the Supreme Court in Russia, said Friday that after 37 years of communism the nation is still suffering from a capitalistic hangover.

In a speech broadcast by Moscow radio he said: "But even now remnants of bourgeois ideology persist in the consciousness of part of our citizens. These remnants of capitalism find their expression in undue and servile admiration of the culture and the way of life of Western capitalist countries."

Asserting that he believes capitalism is the root of all evil, Volin said the following capitalistic crimes are still prevalent in what Communist party orators refer to as the workers' paradise:

Stealing, profiteering, hoarding, customer cheating, cheating the government, alcoholism, drunkenness, and a wrong attitude toward women.

He did not elaborate on this last misdeed, but in the past the charge has been leveled at individuals in the central Asian republics who indulged in bride-kidnaping.

McCarthy's Elbow 'A Little Improved': Still In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—The condition of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, whose ailing arm is holding up Senate consideration of a move to censure him, was reported "a little improved" Friday.

There still was no definite word from Bethesda Naval Hospital, however, how soon the Wisconsin Republican will be well enough to leave the hospital.

The Senate called an 11-day halt in the debate Thursday on the basis of a medical report saying McCarthy's elbow injury had resulted in "traumatic bursitis" and treatment would keep him hospitalized until Nov. 29.

Senators split sharply on whether there now will be any final action on the censure move at the now-interrupted special session of the Senate, which must end Dec. 24.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, said there is "no doubt in my mind that the issue will be resolved" before the Christmas Eve deadline.

But Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.), one of the two senators who voted in favor of shortening the current recess, voiced disagreement in a separate interview.

"I doubt very seriously that we will ever be able to get the censure resolution to a vote," Fulbright said. "We certainly will not be able to do it without the full cooperation of the Republican leadership."

Fulbright is one of the three senators who originated the move to censure McCarthy on grounds of contempt toward a Senate subcommittee and "repeated abuse" of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker before McCarthy's subcommittee.

One of the various rumors floating around was that McCarthy is critically ill but a Naval Hospital spokesman denied that one.

"The senator is not critically ill," he said, "but it is not known definitely how long he will be in the hospital."

Girl, 15, Slugged In First Hours Of Curfew Crackdown

CHICAGO (AP)—The beer bottle slugging of a 15-year-old girl in the first few hours of a new curfew crackdown against teen-agers kept juvenile violence on the march in the South Side Gresham district Friday.

While police were rounding up a gang of five youths for questioning about the assault on the girl, juvenile authorities filed complaints against a member of a girl gang described by police as a "wolf pack."

Judith Gramm, 13, was pummeled so severely she required hospitalization after the girl gang accosted her on a South Side street Wednesday night.

Capt. William Hennessy of the Gresham police district clamped on a 10:30 p.m. curfew for minors after the attack on Judith, but the new girl assault was made in his district not long after the curfew went into effect.

Hennessy said the new assault victim named as her assailant Lawrence Healy, 17, who only Thursday was freed from the Cook County Jail after serving six months of a one-year sentence for burglary.

A recent United Nations study indicates that the proportion of personal income used for food has increased throughout the world since World War II.

'Distant Early Warning' Line Started In Canada

Mendes-France Calls Russia's New Cold War Move Dangerous

WASHINGTON (AP)—French Premier Charles de Gaulle declared today it would be "childish, unrealistic and even dangerous" to accept the Soviet proposal for a general European conference this month.

Interrupting his talks with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, the French Premier gave his strongest denunciation of the Soviet move in a luncheon appearance before the National Press Club.

He came in reply to a question after he said in his prepared speech the French Parliament will ratify the Paris agreement for rearming Germany within the North Atlantic Treaty organization despite any concessions by which Russia may try to dissuade France.

Mendes-France several times said the West must be "open minded" to any reasonable proposal from the Russians.

International conferences, he said, must be undertaken carefully and in a spirit of sincere desire for a settlement.

"It would be childish, unrealistic and even dangerous," he said, "to accept such proposals as the one to go to Moscow or even Paris Nov. 29, and improvise solutions for such difficult problems that for 11 years no solution to them could be found."

He said the latest Soviet notes had been very disappointing "because they didn't bring us the news we all hoped for, that of changes in Soviet policy that would bring us nearer to real peaceful coexistence."

To achieve a way of living at peace, he said, the free countries can do some things on their own, such as: "strengthen our arms, our defense organizations, and our internal economies."

Such a strengthening, he said, "would be a very important step toward the kind of coexistence acceptable to everybody."

As to ratifying the agreements to rearm Germany as an integral part of Western defense, Mendes-France said ratification could not be considered as a trading point in the East-West struggle.

Mendes-France said no financial questions were being discussed in his talks with American officials.

He was asked why he thinks Germany, enemy to France in two world wars, now can be trusted as an ally. He replied:

"It seems to me very clear that our interests as Western European countries are now the same on security questions and economic rehabilitation."

"How many of these potential lovers did she have?" the hand, some osteopath was asked last July 10 during police questioning.

"Three that I know of," was Dr. Sheppard's reply, "and I am pretty sure more. I am certain there were more."

The men were not named, in a statement signed by Sheppard and read into the record of his first degree murder trial Friday by Detective Robert T. Schottke, of the Cleveland homicide squad.

Earlier, Schottke testified a house guest was rumored to be infatuated with the attractive murder victim, Marilyn Sheppard, but that Dr. Sheppard shrugged off the report.

The guest was Dr. Lester Hovsten, a Glendale, Cal., osteopath and friend of the Sheppards. He spent three days with the Sheppards and left the day before Mar-

U.S. To Pay For Radar Stations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States already has established the first seven of an eventual chain of radar warning stations it will build and pay for across Canada above the Arctic Circle.

This came to light Friday in connection with a careful, diplomatically worded, joint announcement by Ottawa and Washington.

The announcement said the two countries had decided the "Distant Early Warning" line should be built—a 3,000-mile long string of radar "eyes" intended to give a six-hour warning to American cities if Soviet bombers head in over the polar cap.

The Dew line, which will arc somewhat north of the Arctic Circle and extend eastward to the area of Greenland, will be the highest north of four radar belts either in operation or being constructed.

The announcement also said it has been agreed that, while both Canada and the United States will participate in the project, responsibility for construction will be vested in the United States.

Reporters asked a Pentagon official if this meant the United States would bear the cost. He said "I think we'll foot the bill."

Unofficial estimates of building the Dew line in the remote, uninhabited and frozen arctic have ranged from two hundred million to one billion dollars.

The first of the radar stations was built in the area of Barter Island, off the Arctic sea coast of Alaska, more than a year ago. The Western Electric Co., which produced and installed equipment for that station, said in September 1953 that the "initial section" of Dew line was to be functioning within a year.

The Defense Department thereafter maintained tight silence about progress until Friday when an official, discussing with reporters the formal announcement, disclosed that seven such stations, presumably all located along the northern perimeter of Alaska, are in operation.

Although still classed as experimental, these stations are linked to the radar warning filter centers of Alaska and the United States.

The defense official requested that he not be named.

Some of the arctic radar stations will operate automatically, requiring only occasional visits by servicing personnel. Others will be manned.

SHOCKING GIFT

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Members of the Fairview Presbyterian Church got quite a shock Thursday with the arrival of a piano donated to the church by a member who didn't need it any longer for his rumpus room.

The piano was liberally decorated with deals of women wearing only their birthday suits, or little more.

CONTRADICTION THE EXPERTS

The unofficial vote totals for the 1954 general election contradict the many political specialists who said over and over that voters this year were apathetic. The turnout of some 43,400,000 citizens was a balloting record in a nonpresidential year.

Admittedly the total was 18,000,000 off the showing in 1952, the biggest presidential voting year in history. But the truer measure is with the 42,462,000 who voted in the previously record 1950 off-year.

Election day reports made it evident that voters over half the nation braved rain and snow to get to the polls. These accounts hardly fit a picture of popular apathy.

Apparently both politicians and the analysts who listen to them had a tendency to misread the silence of many voters. A severe fall-off from presidential peaks is always to be expected, especially when no really vital issues seem to be involved, as was the case this time. But the results suggest it is risky to exaggerate that decline.

Americans perhaps need to be educated to regard their off-year elections for Congress as seriously as they do their presidential battles. But until they do, the vote samplers probably ought to be more selective in trying to gauge apathy. The answer, at any given election, may lie with the steady voter. If he is staying away, then there would seem to be clear indication of apathy.

This time the steady voter, augmented by some new voters and by others who felt the very uneven impact of unemployment and sagging farm prices, made the talk of popular disinterest appear somewhat foolish.

The 1954 totals show that nationally the Democrats outpolled the Republicans by more than 1,750,000. But this figure is misleading, since most of the Democratic margin was built up in the Solid South. Outside that area, the Democratic advantage was a mere 370,000.

Spread that number of votes across more than 35 states and you can understand why there were so many photo-finishes on Nov. 2. It's fair to say that outside the South the two parties ended in a virtual tie in their bid for popular favor.

So it is true that the reliable off-year voters did not stay home. But neither major party found a way to stir the millions who customarily ignore nonpresidential elections. As a matter of fact, those who did come out demonstrated quite forcefully that neither party holds much charm for them.

BASTOGNE, Belgium — If there is any place abroad where an American can be sure of a warmly sentimental welcome, it is here in this small Belgian town made world famous by a word—"nuts!"

"Nuts," is the reply an American general is supposed to have made to surrender demands of Germans besieging Bastogne during the Battle of the Bulge.

Whether that is the word the general really used—or, as some claim, it was the Army censor's translation of an even more forthright term—it summed up the determination of the men who fought here. It helped immortalize Bastogne.

Today this is still known as "the Nuts City." There is a "Nuts Museum" that preserves wartime mementoes. Visitors find a dish of nuts on their table at meal times. Other engagements in the Battle of the Bulge were perhaps as important as the heroic stand made here, but Bastogne remains as the great symbol of Allied victory in Adolf Hitler's last massive offensive against the West in 1944.

Here the 10th Armored and 101st Airborne divisions held the key Bastogne area for vital days at the start of the offensive, a stand that caught the admiration of the world. Less well known, but even more bloody, was the fight that followed soon after when Hitler, the real purpose of his drive defeated, moved his troops and again assaulted Bastogne, a prize he hoped would restore morale of the German home front.

Shelled by ground fire, bombarded nightly by Nazi planes, the civilians of Bastogne suffered side by side with their American defenders.

Casualties were heavy. Of some 10,500 homes in the Bastogne area, nearly 9,000 were destroyed or heavily damaged, and this takes no account of the public buildings reduced to rubble.

Bastogne has made a great come back. Today between 80 and 85 per cent of the buildings have been reconstructed, and one has to look to discover signs of the war.

The wartime camaraderie has endured. It is hard when you have lost members of your family and your home in a war, to feel grateful to your "victorious defenders." But the people of Bastogne do still like and welcome Americans wholeheartedly.

"We were together," is the way a townsman expressed it to a group of visiting U.S. newsmen.

The entrances to Bastogne are still guarded by American tanks that saw combat here. Some 400 yards from the point where the Germans thrust closest to the town stands a great star-shaped memorial raised by the Belgians in tribute to the 76,890 American killed, wounded or missing in the entire Battle of the Ardennes.

The memorial lists the names of all the units of the men who fought in this vast winter action. Beneath it is a chapel where memorial services are held for the different faiths of these men—Protestant, Catholic, Jewish.

The police don't come any bigger, said Police Superintendent A. G. Kendall.

Mate's Actions Speak Louder Than 'I Love You' Words

Just because a man has never given his wife any real cause for complaint doesn't mean she can't find a reason for getting into a dither over whether or not he really loves her.

Take this letter, for instance. A wife writes: "I have a husband who really confuses me. He is always correct when he is at home. He works six days a week and on Sunday he wants to play ball with the children or do anything else just so long as he can stay at home."

"But he never tells me he loves me. He says 'I told you I loved you when we were married. I meant it and I still do. I don't see why I have to go around preaching on the same subject nine years straight."

"Does he really love me and the children—or not?"

He may not talk as prettily as Charles Boyer, but he would rather be at home than any place in the world.

He may not tell you every day that he loves you, but after nine years of marriage he still prefers your company to anyone else's.

He may not pet and praise his children, but he gets out and plays ball with them on Sunday when many fathers prefer to spend the afternoon on the golf course.

So quit worrying about whether or not your husband loves you. Actions speak louder than words. And judging from your husband's behavior he is a man who not only loves his wife and children but also his home.

It is a foolish fancy of the female heart that a man doesn't love a woman unless he is forever telling her so.

That is how it happens that a woman can have a true and loving husband, and still wish for words of reassurance.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON —The difference between being censured for contempt of Congress and being convicted for contempt of Congress is the difference between a rebuke and jail.

This difference shows some of the difference between an ordinary citizen and a member of Congress while Congress is in session.

Nothing worse than the rebuke can happen to Sen. McCarthy at this session unless, by something else he does, he infuriates his fellow senators into throwing him out of the Senate.

If an ordinary citizen is called to testify before a congressional committee, but ignores it, he can be cited for contempt of Congress. That is followed by trial in federal court. If convicted, he goes to jail.

Not so with a member of Congress.

Several years ago a Senate subcommittee investigating McCarthy's financial dealings asked him to appear and answer questions. He didn't. He had no need to worry he might go to jail for contempt of Congress. He was protected by the Constitution.

To give members of Congress as much freedom as possible, the Constitution says a senator or representative cannot be arrested during a congressional session except for treason, a felony or breach of the peace.

Censure is merely a rebuke, an expression of opinion that a member's conduct has been unbecoming. But he doesn't lose his seat.

McCarthy, in declining to go before the subcommittee, argued it had no jurisdiction in investigating him. Besides, he said, the committee was dishonest. Nothing happened to him, at least then. He was not cited for contempt. But his treatment of the committee was not forgotten.

It came back to haunt him this year when another committee, headed by Sen. Watkins, a Utah Republican, was specially created to look into charges that McCarthy had been contemptuous of Congress on a number of occasions.

McCarthy didn't attempt to ignore this committee when it called him to testify. If he had, his Senate foes would have pointed to this as proof of a contemptuous attitude.

The Watkins committee recommended two counts.

1. That he had been contemptuous of the Senate in ignoring and insulting the earlier subcommittee.

2. That his conduct had been "reprehensible" in the treatment given Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, who had been called before McCarthy's own subcommittee to answer questions about the handling of Communists in the Army.

Then McCarthy repeated what he had done to the earlier subcommittee: he poured insults on Watkins' committee and on Watkins himself. He said the committee was the "handmaiden" of the Communists and Watkins was imbecile and cowardly.

This so infuriated the usually mild Watkins that he attacked McCarthy head-on last Tuesday in a detailed Senate speech that traced the long history of McCarthy's relations with the subcommittee which tried to examine his finances.

He didn't go into the question of McCarthy's constitutional protection in not going before that earlier committee Watkins, reminding the Senate McCarthy had called him a coward, asked.

Why had McCarthy, whose integrity and honor had been challenged by investigation of that earlier subcommittee, not gone to defend himself, but instead from the "safety" of his office fired insults by letter?

Then, since it had happened under their own eyes, Watkins asked the Senate to censure McCarthy on a new and third count: contempt of the Watkins committee, which had been set up to find out whether he had been contemptuous.

McCarthy, who didn't sit in the Senate to listen to Watkins, went into the hospital the next day with an injured elbow.

Medical Jawbreakers Confuse Patients; Doctor Defines Some in Simple Terms

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

There are many special tests and instruments now used in medicine and patients hearing the names of these instruments are often confused.

Q—What is a cystoscopy, and what is pyelography?

A—A cystoscopy is an examination of the bladder with an instrument known as a cystoscope, a portion of which is inserted into the bladder with lights and mirrors so that the physician can view the inside wall of the urinary bladder itself. Pyelography is a procedure involving the use of an X-ray film of the kidney and ureter (which is the passageway from the kidney to the bladder) after they have been filled with a solution which will show up in the X-ray film. Obviously both these procedures are extremely valuable in determining some disorders in the urinary passageways.

Q—Does smoking a pipe, cigar or cigarette affect one's blood pressure?

A—It usually causes a temporary rise in blood pressure but whether it has any permanent effect remains somewhat in dispute.

Q—What causes one's foot to swell to about twice its size for a matter of several hours? This party is allergic to aspirin and simply swells about the head and face and other parts of the body. Would you discuss?

A—This has all of the earmarks of the rare allergic sensitivity to aspirin. The person involved should avoid aspirin and probably related drugs and if he or she ever becomes seriously ill the doctor should be informed of this allergic response so that he can be careful in prescribing other drugs which might produce a similar reaction.

Q—Every time I have a large amount of beer the next day or during the night I have terrible pains under my ribs. My stomach also gets puffed up, hard and sore to touch. What could this be? H.H.

A—It is probably the accumulation of gas in the digestive tract. The remedy is obvious.

Q—My 16-year-old son plays on the high school football team and I am terribly worried that he will get broken teeth since I know of someone else who had a bad accident of this kind. Can anything be done?

A—An article in the Journal of the American Dental Association stated that more than half of the injuries suffered by college and high school football players occurred in the mouth area. They recommended that mouth protectors be worn by all schoolboys who play football and where they tried this in a Chicago high school they found that dental injuries had been reduced 100 per cent.

1957 Looms as Critical Year In Peace-or-War Showdown

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—Signs now point to 1957 as the critical year in which the dice may be cast for world peace or war.

It will be two years after ratification of the Paris agreements before a German army will be ready as an effective force. That means two years before West Europe can meet a Soviet attack and win.

It will be two years according to latest speculation—before Soviet Russia will have a stockpile of nuclear weapons big enough to risk an all-out war on the non-Communist world.

These two factors tend to balance each other in the race of preparedness for war. As to preparedness for peace.

It will take two years—given the best intentions on both sides—to negotiate an acceptable world disarmament agreement such as the United Nations has now voted on with Communist bloc backing, for secret consideration by a committee of five major powers—America, Britain, Canada, France and the Soviet Union.

This is the opinion of no less an authority than Selwyn Lloyd, now British Minister of Supply, formerly a member of the UN Disarmament Commission.

IF THESE APPRAISALS of the international situation are valid, they mean that the next two years will be a period of continued cold war and increasing international tensions.

It is all very well to say that the signing of the Paris agreements to create a new Western European Union have greatly strengthened the non-Communist cause, and thereby made the prospects for peace better than they were two years ago.

It is also very encouraging to note that Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, has cast Russia's vote in favor of the resolution calling for five-power talks on disarmament.

To think that Mr. Vishinsky's new, sweet reasonableness is the result of the signing of the Paris agreements and the new western force potential would be a false deduction.

ENCOURAGING AS VISHINSKY'S support of the new disarmament resolution may be, he has not gone overboard. He has accepted only one minor proposal on disarmament. This is a matter of timing. He has agreed for Russia to put into effect each part of the disarmament plan as it is agreed upon, instead of waiting for agreement on the complete package.

Actually, this proposal is lifted from a plan submitted to the Disarmament Conference in London last summer. It was originally proposed by Selwyn Lloyd and Jules Moch of France. Jacob Malik rejected this plan for Russia at London. Now Vishinsky says his proposal is based on the British-French staging paper.

On the much more important questions of the atomic bomb controls, international inspection and the levels of disarmament, the Russians have made no concessions whatever. There are wide gaps in Mr. Vishinsky's statement as to whether the control machinery would be in effect before the bomb is banned or not. He says only that this is a matter to be studied.

THE RUSSIAN POSITION in the past has been to ban the bomb first, then figure out inspection. The U. S. position has been that this country will use the bomb only to retaliate against an act of aggression. The British-French position is that the bomb should not be used by any country unless the bomb was first used against it.

So there is still much room for debate.

From their point of view, the Russians could of course not be expected to accept the complete disarmament package at once.

Both Prime Minister Churchill and President Eisenhower have now said that they can see no change in Soviet objectives. That is why the West is reluctant to attend any more conferences, until there is some sign of Russian willingness to reach an agreement.

The Russian objectives may be simply stated. They are to prevent West German rearmament through defeat of ratification of the Paris pacts creating the Western European Union and to stall on disarmament. They will not disarm until the Western powers are first disarmed—if then. Consequently, they may be expected to yield only as they are forced to yield, a point at a time, over the next two years.

Luchow's Stuffed Pancake

Is Sunday Lunch Special

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Recently we had Sunday brunch at Luchow's on 14th Street in New York. This historic German restaurant, known the world over, has warmth and friendliness and really fine German food. Jan Mitchell, a handsome young owner, has started serving an amazing pancake stuffed with chicken as a brunch or late supper specialty. As we ate it with wonder, the tall blond Jan patiently told us how it is made.

So we pass the recipe on to you for your fall Sunday brunch parties, or after the movies or theater late snack parties.

Luchow's Pancake
(Makes 4 to 6 pancakes)
Six eggs, 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 pint milk, 1 pound butter or margarine.

Beat eggs lightly, beat in flour, salt and then milk. Beat 5 minutes in all. The batter should be thin and smooth. Melt enough butter or margarine in a wide frying pan to coat bottom and sides. When hot, pour in 4 to 5 tablespoons batter. Turn and slant pan to make batter spread to form large, thin, flat pancake. Cook until batter bubbles; turn; bake other side. Slip onto hot plate.

Stuffing for Pancake
Three and one-half to 4-pound loaf broiled or 2 large chicken breasts, boiled, 4 mushroom cups, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 cups light cream, 2 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon salt.

Cut chicken meat in small pieces. Dice mushrooms and cook in butter or margarine in chafing dish. Add 2 cups cream; stir; let simmer 2 with chicken as a brunch or late supper specialty. As we ate it with wonder, the tall blond Jan patiently told us how it is made.

Finds Hungry Tots Abandoned With Note To Police

NEWPORT, Ky., (AP)—Hearing a noise outside, Mrs. Florence Adank asked her son Charles to investigate. He opened the door Thursday night and found two chubby but very hungry boys abandoned on the step. Lying beside them were a paper bag with two diapers, a toy pistol, a rattle and a note addressed to "police headquarters." "To whom it may concern, I am not doing this because I want to. I have to. There is no other way out. They are very hungry because we have no food and no place for them to live. There (sic) ages are D. J. 2 years, Dec. 14th. J. K. 1 year Jan 16th." After a hearty meal at police headquarters, the boys were turned over to Campbell County Detention Home.

FBI Agents Nab Red Leader In Tennessee City

MEMPHIS, Tenn., (AP)—James Irving Scales, whom the FBI said has been running the Communist party's activities in Tennessee and the Carolinas for more than three years, was arrested here Thursday night. Federal agents arrested the 34-year-old Scales on a warrant sworn out at Wilkesboro, N.C., under the Smith Act. This act outlaws any conspiracy to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U.S. government. J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, said Scales, also known as Joe Shields, has been active in the party in North and South Carolina since 1946. Scales did not resist when he was arrested on a residential street corner. The FBI here declined further comment. Hoover said the long hunt for Scales began when he disappeared from his home at Carrboro, N.C., Oct. 6, 1951. If convicted, Scales could be jailed for 10 years, fined $10,000 or both. At a hearing before a U.S. commissioner, bond was set at $100,000 over Scales' protest. Scales is a grandson of a former North Carolina governor, A. M. Scales.

AIR HOSTESSES PAY FOR WAIST MEASURE

CHICAGO (AP)—Forty former slim trim air hostesses submitted to waistline measurements at a party Thursday night and new figures cost them a price. For each inch of waistline the member paid a penny, and for each inch gained since she stopped flying, the member paid an extra dime. The total of $26.75 was given to the National Association for Mentally Retarded Children. The 13th annual anniversary party was for members of the United Airline Stewardess Alumnae.

SOCIAL SECURITY BROADCASTS END

The social security program, formerly heard over Radio Station WIDS each Thursday at 4 p.m., has been temporarily discontinued. This was announced by H. J. Vasconcellos, district manager of the Springfield social security office. The program, which is a public service feature over the local station, will return to the air in January at the same time. Vasconcellos said that a representative of his office will continue to be at the American Legion Home in Jacksonville every Thursday from 10 a.m. to noon.

Football Banquet For Greenfield Team Draws 110

GREENFIELD—The mothers of the high school football squad entertained their sons, husbands, cheerleaders, high school faculty and their husbands and wives at the annual fried chicken dinner and dance Wednesday night in the gymnasium. Mrs. Heischel Wilhelm, chairman of the mothers committee, introduced the toastmistress, Mrs. Oscar Thibault. Rev. Watson Thornton gave the invocation. Seniors giving toasts were: Allen Spencer, "Greeting our Mothers;" Donald Edwards, "Everybody Helps at GCHS;" Wendell Stone, "Entertainment Between Halves;" Russell Ploger, "No Place Like Home;" Raymond Short, "Eating I Do Well;" Bob Burkholder, "Lauding Our Managers;" Danny Pedigo, "Dad Pays the Bills;" Jim Williams, "Goodbye to Underclassmen;" John Thibault, and "Especially Appreciated. Our Cheerleaders." Bob Heitch.

The coaches, Principal Robert Eberle and Vince Marquess, Superintendent Fred W. Burnham, Russell Shields, Jr. and Roy Heitch gave short talks and Miss Mary Cullen, girls physical education director, gave the response for the cheerleaders.

Letters were presented to eight seniors, eight juniors and one sophomore. Donald Edwards, Richard Briggs, Donald Ferguson, Joe and John Longmeyer, Wendell Stone, Stephen Grimmer, Allen Spencer, Bob Burkholder, Jim Williams, Danny Pedigo, Jon Thibault, Dave Walden, Donald Sample, Jim Clark, Richard Miller and Russell Ploger. Briggs and Miller were elected co-captains for the 1955 season. Manager letters were presented to B. B. Langley and Tom Woodrick. Cheerleader varsity monograms were presented to Genevieve Wagner, Barbara Meyer, Marilyn Williams, Mary Spencer and Marilyn Williams.

There were a total of 200 participants in the activities. Mrs. Robert Eberle cut the football cake. The hand made programs in the school colors, orange and black, were made by Mrs. Cesena James and her commercial students.

Greenfield People Injured Enroute To Football Game

GREENFIELD—Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Handing and son Allen and her mother, Mrs. Wilbur Caniney and Paul Roberts suffered injuries in a car wreck near Murphyville Saturday morning enroute to Murray, Ky.

They were to witness a football game at Murray College where Mrs. Caniney's son, Harold, a senior at Murray plays football. Handing driving Roberts' car suffered severe chest injuries and Roberts suffered a severe cut in his lower jaw. They were all returned home here Saturday evening in the Shields ambulance and later Saturday night Handing was taken by ambulance to the Boyd Memorial hospital in Carrollton and on Sunday Mrs. Handing entered the hospital for treatment.

Sunday afternoon Bill Goens of Carrollton, driving east on Illinois Highway No. 111, suffered injuries in a car crash with some Negroes of Alton enroute to their home in Alton from Jacksonville at the intersection of Route No. 111 and U. S. 67 south of this city. Both cars suffered extensive damages and Goens was taken to the Boyd Memorial hospital in Carrollton by Shields ambulance.

TRAVELERS TELL ARENZVILLE CLUB OF ISLAND TRIP

The regular meeting of the Arenzville Woman's club was held in the Legion hall Tuesday evening with a potluck supper for members and families.

After a bountiful meal the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Arthur Kleinschmidt. The pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Albert Kolberer who also read the club collect. Minutes of the last meeting and communications were read by the secretary, Mrs. George Morrison. Mrs. Aldo Hiernan gave a report of the County meeting held in Ashland Oct. 19.

Mrs. Harold Kruse was in charge of the program. She introduced Mrs. J. E. Rawlings and Mrs. Wheeler who spoke of their trip to the Hawaiian Islands. They played Hawaiian records and showed films of the Islands. Mrs. Rawlings demonstrated the hula dance. Both ladies wore native costumes. Mrs. Rawlings also played several numbers on the accordion and mouth harp.

It requires 500 to 1,000 gallons of water to produce a ton of bread.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
For years, every time the Russians have made some gesture toward a European settlement, France has wavered about some move toward Western European defense unity.

This time, things are different. When Russia made her proposal for a European conference for establishment of a mutual defense system it was immediately recognized, as it was recognized before the four-power conference at Berlin last year, as another move designed to stop incorporation of Western Germany into a European defense system.

Britain, the United States and others reacted quickly. They were not interested in another conference until after Western European Union had been ratified, which was expected to take several months.

France was a little slow to react, and there was some worry among the other parties to the Paris agreements that she might again grasp at some straw which might in the end save her from agreement to West Germany's rearmament.

But Premier Mendes-France has spoken out firmly now. It would be dangerous, he said, to attempt a conference this month, as Moscow suggested. When the defense agreements have been completed it will be time enough, he said.

This should lay, once and for all, the fear entertained by some in the United States that Mendes-France, who was credited with killing the old idea for a European Defense Community, was in reality still stalling on rearmament.

It does not, of course, guarantee that WEU will be ratified. The reaction of the French or German Parliament could go against that regardless of the determination of Mendes-France or Chancellor Adenauer. But it has a good start in Germany. With the Premier's strength behind it as it was not behind EDC, chances in France are greatly brightened.

The overwhelming vote for British ratification, despite the large number of abstentions, also will encourage the Europeans.

Ratification will mean that when another period of negotiation with Russia does begin, she will have to be vastly more realistic about the German and Austrian unification problems than she has been before.

Sex, Glamor Taboo For Girl Singing Hillbilly Music

NASHVILLE, Tenn., (AP)—Sex and glamor are strictly taboo for the girl who wants to get ahead in hillbilly music.

That's the opinion of successful women have invaded a field once reserved for men. This verdict was reached as two jockeys from the United States and Canada met here for the National Disc Jockey Festival.

Ann Jones, of Vancouver, Wash., and Moxelle Phillips, of Raleigh, N.C., who both spin records and sing country music were free with advice.

To be successful in country music, particularly as an artist, a woman should stick to gingham and steer clear of fancy hairdos and figure-revealing clothes, they agreed. If you've got glamor, play it down.

"It pays to be yourself. I'm a plain old country girl and I sing from the heart. There's nothing a fan catches quicker than pith and sincerity," said Moe Phillips.

The overwhelming vote for British ratification, despite the large number of abstentions, also will encourage the Europeans.

Ratification will mean that when another period of negotiation with Russia does begin, she will have to be vastly more realistic about the German and Austrian unification problems than she has been before.

Sex, Glamor Taboo For Girl Singing Hillbilly Music

NASHVILLE, Tenn., (AP)—Sex and glamor are strictly taboo for the girl who wants to get ahead in hillbilly music.

That's the opinion of successful women have invaded a field once reserved for men. This verdict was reached as two jockeys from the United States and Canada met here for the National Disc Jockey Festival.

Ann Jones, of Vancouver, Wash., and Moxelle Phillips, of Raleigh, N.C., who both spin records and sing country music were free with advice.

To be successful in country music, particularly as an artist, a woman should stick to gingham and steer clear of fancy hairdos and figure-revealing clothes, they agreed. If you've got glamor, play it down.

"It pays to be yourself. I'm a plain old country girl and I sing from the heart. There's nothing a fan catches quicker than pith and sincerity," said Moe Phillips.

But Premier Mendes-France has spoken out firmly now. It would be dangerous, he said, to attempt a conference this month, as Moscow suggested. When the defense agreements have been completed it will be time enough, he said.

This should lay, once and for all, the fear entertained by some in the United States that Mendes-France, who was credited with killing the old idea for a European Defense Community, was in reality still stalling on rearmament.

It does not, of course, guarantee that WEU will be ratified. The reaction of the French or German Parliament could go against that regardless of the determination of Mendes-France or Chancellor Adenauer. But it has a good start in Germany. With the Premier's strength behind it as it was not behind EDC, chances in France are greatly brightened.

The overwhelming vote for British ratification, despite the large number of abstentions, also will encourage the Europeans.

Ratification will mean that when another period of negotiation with Russia does begin, she will have to be vastly more realistic about the German and Austrian unification problems than she has been before.

Thanksgiving

The corn is drying in the fields . . . the sky overhead seems shades bluer than it has ever been before and the autumn air is a tonic, bracing and cool. And on this, the most American of all holidays, thoughts go back to the first Thanksgiving and what it really meant.

It was a bare bounty for which the Pilgrims knelt to thank God. Their harvest was not a rich one, they faced the prospect of a long, bleak winter to be followed by an uncertain spring. But still, those who had survived the rigorous year just past were deeply thankful for all that they had . . . and did not dwell upon that which they had not.

It was their faith and the faith of others like them which has enabled our country to survive and flourish. Today, more than ever, we and our children need faith like that. We need to kneel in thanks for a bounty far richer than that known or dreamed of by the Pilgrims. In the church of our choice let each of us praise and thank Him for our blessings.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

the program for the evening was presented by the staff of Lincoln school, Department of Special Education. Classroom teacher, Josephine Milligan, explained some of the difficulties of children affected with athetoid type of cerebral palsy. Lack of muscular control and subsequent weakness in muscle groups leads to varying degrees of difficulty in grosser body movement as walking, as well as the more intricate ones as visual perception and speech.

Miss Milligan stressed the importance of team-work in successful programs for the teaching and training of these children.

A demonstration was given by the staff and two pupils with Mrs. Buckner assisting. Adeline Dougherty, speech correctionist, demonstrated technique used to bring about general body relaxation; methods used to improve breathing control and to strengthen muscles used in speech. Joyce Siroky, physiotherapist, demonstrated special exercises for strengthening muscles and the use of walking aids. Miss Milligan demonstrated the use of an electric typewriter for written work and the teaching of reading by using a projector and screen.

After the program an open house of the facilities of Lincoln school was held and refreshments were served in the school cafeteria, with Lucile O'Brien as chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cole, Greer Burns and Miss Mildred Cook attended the Illinois-Wisconsin football game at Champaign Saturday.

MAYOR APPEALS FIRE FIGHTERS' MARCH FOR MD

Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland Thursday complimented the Jacksonville fire department for accepting the responsibility of the nationwide Fire Fighters' March of Muscular Dystrophy campaign in Jacksonville.

He signed a proclamation designating Nov. 20-24 as the days for collecting money in the city, asserting "the success of this drive will benefit our friends and neighbors through help to local muscular dystrophy victims and their families."

"More than 200,000 citizens of this nation have been stricken with muscular dystrophy . . . and it is vital to the welfare of our community and of the nation to restore the health of these citizens through increased medical knowledge of the cause and cure for muscular dystrophy."

"I urge that all members of this community give full support to the crusade to end the suffering and death caused by muscular dystrophy," the mayor's proclamation concluded.

VIRGINIA

VIRGINIA—Saturday afternoon the following ladies entertained friends at a canasta party at New Salem Lodge: Mrs. Watson Sinclair, Mrs. Edwin Mefford, Mrs. John Byus and Mrs. Stanley Whitely.

Mrs. Harry Bailey was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge Club at her home Wednesday, Nov. 17.

The annual Thanksgiving service for the community of Virginia will be held in the Presbyterian church on Nov. 25 at 9 a.m. The speaker will be the Rev. Charles Adams. The choir of the host church will provide special music. Last year, a large attendance made up the audience at the service held in the Shiloh Cumberland Presbyterian church.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church are completing plans for their annual bazaar and chicken pie supper to be held in the church Dec. 9. The bazaar will open at 1 p.m. Supper will be served beginning at 5 o'clock.

Miss Doris Hunt of Peoria, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan and family, of Verailles, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hunt Sunday. The event was in honor of Mrs. Hunt's birthday anniversary.

BABY CHOKES TO DEATH

CHICAGO (AP) — A 6-month-old baby, Nancy Schmaedecke, swallowed the nipple of her nursing bottle Thursday night and died. Her mother's arms enroute to a hospital.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmaedecke, Jr., said they had Nancy choking in her crib and up on investigating Mrs. Schmaedecke felt the nipple lodge in the baby's throat. The mother said she was unable to remove it.

The Buick Special—A Standout for 1955

SLEEK NEW STYLING and record-high horsepower make the Buick Special four-door sedan for 1955 a standout in the lower priced field. Its V-8 power plant has been increased to an all-time high of 188 horsepower which, with Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow transmission, gives the Special performance and maneuverability unequalled by any automobile in its field. Setting a new styling trend are a wide-screen grille and a roll-edge bumper with sturdy dual wing guards. For the first time, Buick's choice selection of power assists—power brakes, power steering, window lifts and front seat adjustment—are available as optional equipment on the Special.

Blind Contralto To Give Recital

Bethel AME church of this city will present Princess Theodosia Stewart, blind contralto, in a recital at 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 21, at the church.

Princess Stewart is well known nationally, having traveled extensively. She has been featured on stage, radio, and many churches singing classical numbers, spirituals, and specialty numbers.

Her Jacksonville recital has more than usual significance, as the singer is a former student of the Illinois Braille & Sight Saving School.

Miss Dovie Woods is president of the choir, and Mrs. Bevie Fisher is the director. Rev. M. Boyde Patrick is pastor of Bethel church.

The public is cordially invited to attend the recital Sunday afternoon, for which there will be an admission charge.

MUSICAL CONCERT AT 4 P.M. SUNDAY

ASHLAND, Ill.—The Ray Osterhouse family of Carthage, Ill., will present a special musical concert at Ashland Methodist Church at 4 p.m. Sunday, November 21, instead of at the hour previously announced.

The program will include both vocal and instrumental numbers and will feature selections on such instruments as the accordion, singing saw, sleigh bells, trombone and hand bells, musical glasses and the piano.

The public is cordially invited.

Jacksonville May Get Radar Traffic Device

"This Street Radar Patrolled" may become a familiar sign in Jacksonville within a short time.

The city council is considering the purchase of radar equipment for the police department, to reduce speed and cut down on traffic violations.

Several members of the council witnessed a demonstration of radar equipment Thursday afternoon on West Morton avenue. The apparatus was demonstrated by Thomas J. Minoia, representative of the Traffic Control Corp., Chicago.

The ultra short wave transmitter and other equipment is portable and may be used by one man or by two cruise cars.

The traffic company representative said the price of the radar unit is $1,082.65.

Minoia reported that Peoria has been using radar with pronounced success. One year ago Peoria had 19 traffic deaths—this year it has had none. Officials of that city credit radar with reducing driving speeds about 10 miles per hour, the demonstrator declared.

Radar provides a graphic speed record which can be taken into court.

Several councilmen indicated that there is probability that the police department will be provided with radar equipment within a short time.

WADE DAGGETT spoke. "Any decision is risky, Greg. That's the penalty of being a free man. You have to make your own decisions. Sometimes I think the whole western world is ridden by fear of the responsibility of freedom, and the eastern world has surrendered it altogether. The Age of Anxiety. The Age of Longing. The Age of Self-Pity. Those words make me sick. Stop being so afraid of taking a chance."

Greg shook his head. Circumstances were against him. So was the May night. He found himself laughing. They started back to the trailer.

After a long pause Greg asked, "Where does Kirby expect to sleep?"

"Well, now," Daggett began uncomfortably, "of course, there isn't room for an extra person in the trailer. Kirby can hardly go to a hotel because someone would be sure to spot him. There's no point in that until—" he broke off and Greg tried to see his face in the deepening twilight. The old man was up to something.

Daggett, aware of Greg's suspicion, leaned craftily on the younger man's arm, accentuating his helplessness. "And it would be tough on Rupert because he is so afraid that he will be asked for his papers."

"So I am elected to find a room for myself somewhere after I get Hannah settled for the night."

With shameless hypocrisy Daggett seized on this. "Since you suggested it yourself—as long as you don't mind."

"Oh, no, I don't mind. Perhaps I can find a nice homey backyard somewhere and curl up with an apple and a good book." Greg grinned. "You know, it is getting to be a challenge to see just how long I can keep you out of the clinic."

If we were to fail her, if she were to feel that we don't value her, it would be the finishing touch to her self-esteem. She has no one else to turn to."

GREG started to speak and closed his mouth. Finally he said, "I'll find her. I'll bring her back."

Daggett brightened. "She can't have gone far. And Greg—can't he understand we want her with us. Be sure you make her understand that."

"She'll come back," Greg promised. "If I have to drag her by the hair of her head."

"Look in the luggage compartment of the car first. See if her suitcases are still there."

But the suitcases were gone. The evening retained much of the soft warmth of the day and the sky was still opaline. Later on, it would be very dark for there was no moon. The light was kind to the trailer park as a shaded lamp is kind to an aging woman's face, accentuating the eyes, concealing the sagging muscles and the lines that stamp it.

There were only two trailers in the park aside from Daggett's. The sudden flare of a match, the glow of a cigarette, punctuated the twilight. And by some miracle no restless soul had been driven to shatter the silence with a radio. Somewhere in the fading light a man spoke and a woman answered. Always two.

Greg was aware of his loneliness as he had not been aware since adolescence. Now as then it seemed intolerable. There must be some way of breaking through his isolation, of reaching other people, of belonging. Some way that was better than the evasion of work or the unsubstantiality of dreams.

Greg lit a cigarette and hastened his pace. He had to find Hannah.

At least, he consoled himself, she wouldn't do anything silly. But if she felt that she should leave them, why hadn't she waited till morning?

AA Owners Will Decide On New Cities Next Week

CHICAGO (AP)—Directors of the American Assn. announced after a five-hour session Friday that by the middle of next week they will determine whether to acquire Denver or Omaha of the Western League, or both.

Ed Doherty, association president, said that "considerable progress" was made at Friday's meeting toward solving the problem created when the Philadelphia Athletics were shifted to Kansas City, home of the association Blues.

The territorial shift also is complicated by the fact that the St. Louis Cardinals reportedly want to shift their American Assn. franchise from Columbus to Omaha, which is also a Cardinal farm city.

Although Doherty declined comment, it was believed that the delay in deciding whether one or two Western League sites will be required may hinge on a civic effort in Columbus to purchase the stadium there.

Dick Meyer of the Cardinal organization said the Columbus club was asking $550,000 for the stadium and property.

Shoulder Separation's Hard On Pro Gridders

By NICK ELLENA
NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago Bears' first-string quarterback George Blanda, who will be missing from the lineup when they face the Colts Sunday, is the third top-notch professional football performer to be laid low this season by that icky of football injuries—the shoulder separation.

But the San Francisco 49ers were hardest hit. Wingman Gordie Soltau, the National Football League's leading scorer in 1953, suffered a separation in a preseason exhibition game this year. No sooner did he return, than Hugh McElhenny, their star runner, suffered a similar injury in a game against the Bears Oct. 31.

What is it that makes this type of injury so prevalent in the game of football?

"It is the very nature of the sport," says Dr. Vincent Nardello.

Shoulder separations have been so numerous in football that the name has become a household word along with appendicitis, meningitis and penicillin.

"I don't remember how many football players I operated on for this type of injury," said Nardello. But the injury, though common, is serious and causes extreme pain as any athlete who has suffered it can attest.

Tonight's NFL Game A Must For The 49ers

By The Associated Press

The San Francisco 49ers and Pittsburgh Steelers meet Saturday night at Pittsburgh in the opener of a full schedule of weekend National Football League games and the contest is a "must" for the California crew.

San Francisco and Los Angeles, each with a 4-3-1 record, are tied for second place in the NFL western division, two games behind the champion Detroit Lions. Neither can afford another loss.

Sunday's big game is at the Polo Grounds where the New York Giants, leading the eastern division, take on the Los Angeles Rams. Here again it is either win, or wait until next year, for Los Angeles.

A Detroit travels to Green Bay for a game with the Packers Sunday, and the Packers return Thanksgiving Day to play the Lions in Detroit. The champions will be favored to win both.

Cleveland entertains the Philadelphia Eagles and the second place Browns must win to remain within striking distance of the Giants in the eastern division title chase.

In other Sunday games the Chicago Bears are at Baltimore against the Colts, and Washington plays the Cardinals in Chicago.

The 49er-Steelers game will be televised (DuMont) starting at 7 p.m. CST.

Gil Turner Slugs Way To TKO Over Charley Scott

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The "new" Gil Turner, fresh from boxing lessons from former heavyweight champ Joe Louis, slugged his way to an eighth round technical knockout of Charley Scott in a scheduled 10-rounder at the Met Thursday night.

Turner, 164½, and Scott, 145½.

But the former welterweight contender's triumph in 2:08 of the eighth round was anti-climatic.

Fight fans in the upper tier showered the ring with debris and a ringside spectator was struck on the head with a bottle following Carmen Bartolomeo's split decision over Jake Josato, both of Philadelphia, in the eight-round semifinal.

Frank Wiener, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, said after the fight that he wouldn't use the officials involved for a considerable time.

Referee George Giachino scored Bartolomeo the winner 52-12 Judge Bill Yancey had Josato ahead 42-2, and Judge Al Stille called it 3-2 for Bartolomeo.

Turner, with a nine-pound weight edge, showed an improved left jab and wore down his fellow Philadelphian who fought back only in flashes.

The Bulls have won only 2 games in 10 starts in this season.

Bee felt "embarrassed" earlier in the week when talk of other coaches taking over came up. He left for his Roscoe N. Y. home to await developments, and said his absence could be interpreted as a resignation if the management wanted it that way.

CHICAGO (AP)—Paul Richards, manager-general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, and general manager Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox talked player swaps Friday, but Richards said afterward "if anything develops, it will be very light."

The White Sox were believed interested in outfielder Gene Woodling, one of the nine Yankees traded for three Orioles in Thursday's big deal.

However, Richards already has said that Woodling, at the moment, is the Oriole cleanup hitter.

CHICAGO (AP)—The State Athletic Commission Friday suspended two officials of the London Sporting Club and four boxing managers as a result of an inquiry into charges of "blacklisting and boycotting."

Those suspended were Tex Sullivan, matchmaker of the London Sporting Club which promotes network television fights at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night, and his assistant matchmaker, Angelo Pucman, and Managers Al Braverman, Lappy Breitbart, Cus D'Amato and Bill Daly.

Ford acted on a telegram from Jim Norris of the International Boxing Commission who telegraphed that Giardello had developed a stiff leg from an injury suffered in training.

Ford said Norris would have an announcement within the next 48 hours on what would happen on rescheduling of the fight or arranging a substitute.

Braverman is president of the Metropolitan Boxing Alliance, an organization of managers which brought about the inquiry by filing affidavits with the commission two weeks ago. In the affidavits, the MMA members charged the London Sporting Club, the New York Boxing Managers Guild and the guild's parent body, the International Boxing Guild with "blacklisting, boycotting and monopolistic practices."

Breitbart, manager of heavyweight Hurricane Tommy Jackson, is an MMA member. D'Amato is the collector and treasurer of the New York Guild as well as manager of light heavyweight contender Floyd Patterson. Daly, a veteran manager, is treasurer of the IBG and a member of the New York guild.

Since Patterson had a fight with Jimmy Slade at the Madison Square Garden Friday night, D'Amato was given permission to work in his fighter's corner.

The commission found "some substance" to charges that non-guild members had been denied fights at St. Nicholas Arena and directed all deputies to report any complaints that any matchmaker has "capriciously or unreasonably refused to consider a properly qualified licensed fighter for a bout."

Pat La Palme of the Pittsburgh Pirates has an odd hobby. He makes gun stocks.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads led the corporate bond market higher Friday in active trading.

"Big Board" volume climbed to $4,235,000 par value from $4,070,000 Thursday as carriers, especially those selling at a discount, gained investor favor. Utilities and industrial fluctuations narrowly in selective dealings.

The Securities & Exchange Commission will hear plans of the Mississippi Valley Generating Co. to finance the Dixon-Yates power contract on Dec. 7, Mississippi Valley is expected to borrow up to 120 million dollars in addition to selling $15 million dollars of stock to its parent companies, Middle South Utilities Inc. and the Southern Co. However, the SEC will conduct hearings only on the equity financing on Dec. 7. Another hearing may have to be called to investigate the debt financing, SEC officials said.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed its forward movement Friday after a session of hesitation.

The advance carried the market on average to within a short distance of the 25-year high established earlier in the week.

Prices were up between $1 and $2 in many instances with a few stocks pushing well ahead of that. Losses were mostly fractional.

Railroads had the biggest hand in starting the rise and in keeping it going. Excellent progress was made by a few steels and motors, and there was a considerable list of individual gainers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 70 cents at $144.30. It was off 90 cents Thursday. It now stands only 20 cents under the 25-year high established Wednesday.

The railroad component of the average was responsible for most of the strength. It was up $1.70 to a new high of $109.99. Utilities were up 30 cents at a new high of $65.70. Industrials added 20 cents at $197.20.

Volume came to 3,330,000 shares, far above the average for the year but well below Thursday's 3,530,000 shares.

The American Stock Exchange was rather mixed but somewhat ahead. Volume amounted to 930,000 shares as compared with a million shares traded Thursday.

WHEAT, RYE FUTURES UP, OTHERS LOWER

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—A few wheat futures calling for delivery late next year rose on the Board of Trade Friday in response to a forecast for continued dry weather in the Southwest.

Rye was up with wheat. Otherwise, the market tended a little lower but at no time were there any large losses. Soybeans retreated the most during the morning, recovering much of the decline before the finish.

Wheat closed 1/4 lower to 1 1/4 higher, corn 1/4 lower, oats 1/4 lower, rye 1 to 1 1/4 higher, soybeans unchanged to 1 cent lower and laid unchanged to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower.

The Weather Bureau's five-day outlook said there would be no precipitation of consequence in the southwestern winter wheat belt. Many sections in this territory now need moisture.

This forecast was the main reason for buying wheat, July and September futures scoring the best gains. However, at one time all wheat contracts sold at new highs for the season.

An early retreat in soybeans followed news of processing plant curtailments. Cargill, Inc., said it would shut its Chicago plant next week. Ralston Purina Co. said it would slow down operations at five plants. Central Soya said it was considering reducing operations.

Processors claimed they could not buy soybeans and convert them into soybean meal and oil profitably at current price relationships through these various products. Bean oil gained 1 cent to sell at 12 1/2 cents a pound while meal held unchanged at $68.00 to $69.00 a ton.

CHICAGO (AP)—Butchers scaling more than 220 pounds were in demand early Friday, selling steady to 25 cents higher. Sows also gained 25 cents. Lighter weight butchers held steady and heavier weights had lost their gains by the close.

Buyers paid $19.25 to $19.60 for choice butchers weighing 170 to 220, reaching up to $19.75, the top, for a few. Butchers scaling 230 to 270 moved at $18.00 to $18.75. Sows sold from $15.50 to $17.50. Salable receipts totaled 10,000 head.

Fresh receipts in the cattle section totaled only 200 head, mostly cows. Cows grading utility and below held steady while better grades were steady to weak. Buyers paid $9.00 to $13.00 for utility to commercial.

A few small lots of commercial to good steers sold for $16.50 to $23.00. Vealers were about steady at $17.00 to $22.00 for good to prime.

Salable receipts in the sheep section totaled 700. All classes held steady, good to choice woolled lambs bringing $18.00 to $20.00 and a few small lots of choice and prime touching $20.50.

Mrs. Alice Scott dies Friday

Mrs. Alice Scott of 669 S. Koschusko St. passed away at her home at 11:45 p.m. Friday evening after an illness of about a year.

The body was taken to the Gillham Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

THE OCEAN HAS NO PITY—An LCM, left, has a rough time battling stormy waters as it assists Marines in placing a metal raised road from an LCT, right, to the shore of Onslow Beach. More than 20,000 Marines and Navy men took part in the two-day maneuver near Camp Lejeune, N. C. The "Exercise Phibex," whose estimated cost was $250,000 to $500,000, was criticized by a Marine combat officer as "silly" because there was so much make-believe about it.

Livestock Exhibitor Grooms Porkers In His Basement

CHICAGO (AP)—Hal White is pig-farming in his basement again. He expects he may be hearing from rate neighbors who two years ago got the health department to make him move his hogs to a farm.

But this time White figures he'll be able to primp up three Tamworth barrows into blue-ribbon shape and get them into a stock show before encountering serious difficulty in the Southwest Side residential neighborhood.

White, 32, regularly is in the sporting goods business, but his wife, Genevieve, 31, says he's "a nobby nut about hogs."

White recently spirited three barrows into his basement on a dark night to get them ready for the upcoming International Livestock Exposition. Their presence became known when some dogs smelled out the secret and began barking at the windows.

Mrs. White said her husband plans to haul the three barrows to the International Amphitheater, site of the livestock show, on Wednesday.

"He said this is the last year he's going to enter hogs, and I hope so," Mrs. White said. "But then, he's figuring that our oldest boy will be ready to start showing in a year or two, so I guess it'll begin all over again."

The Whites have three boys. The eldest is Hal Jr., 8.

White has been raising porkers for more than 10 years, and has won several ribbons in competition.

When he was forced to give up pig farming at his five-room frame home two years ago, White took his pigs to a farm in Kankakee County. Last year, he kept them on a milk farm near suburban Chicago Heights.

The three barrows he's grooming in his basement now were kept on a Grundy County farm, southwest of Chicago. He said he got tired of driving to the country every day to take care of the barrows and having them in his basement also gives him a chance to get into shape for competition.

As for any complaints about the pigs, White said, "If my wife can stand them, I guess my neighbors can. These pigs have caused some consternation, but all things considered, they have been good pigs. There's no smell at all."

BETTAG NAMES NEW OFFICERS AT STATE HOSPITAL IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP)—State Welfare Director Otto L. Bettag Friday appointed a new superintendent and nine other staff officials in a personnel shakeup at Chicago State Hospital.

Dr. Bettag described the appointments as a move to completely remove the hospital from political influence. He said the position of superintendent had been a patronage plum of changing state administrations for the last 20 years.

The new superintendent is Dr. Kaiman Gyafias, clinical associate psychiatrist professor at the University of Illinois. He succeeds the acting superintendent, Dr. Duncan Campbell, 69, who is retiring.

Other new appointees include: Dr. W. M. C. Harrowes, director of research and education; Dr. John Cowen, assistant medical superintendent; Drs. Ladislav J. Meduna and Rudolph Novick, psychiatry consultants; Drs. R. A. Fisher and Joseph D'Silva, resident chest surgeons; Miss Freida Axen, chief nurse, and Miss Catherine H. Hitchcock, assistant chief nurse.

Bettag also appointed John T. Taylor, a former Army colonel, to fill the newly created position of assistant non-medical superintendent.

Motorist Trapped For 15 Hours In Wrecked Car

MONMOUTH, Ill. (AP)—A motorist trapped in his crushed automobile tried vainly for 15 hours to attract help from a busy highway nearby before he was rescued today.

The victim of the harrowing experience was Willard S. Hartman of 1108 Park Ave., Muscatine, Iowa, whose car left U. S. Highway 67 Thursday night and stopped in a water-filled ditch which was screened from the highway by an embankment.

Hartman told police he estimated the time of the accident as about 9:45 p.m. He suffered a broken leg and cuts and bruises on the head.

"When I came out of my daze," he said, "I realized I was trapped in the car. I was partly immersed in water. I tried the only thing I could—sounding the horn until the battery gave out."

Officials were not sure how Hartman was found. They learned that a man telephoned a Monmouth telephone operator, asked that an ambulance be sent to the scene three miles south of Monmouth, and hung up.

Hartman was rescued about 1 p.m. and taken to Monmouth hospital, where he was treated for shock and exposure as well as his injuries.

Much Ado About A Pair Of Shoes

DENVER (AP)—It all started about noon Friday when shoe salesman Clarence Hopper Jr. tried a gray slipper on Miss Louise Davidson and inadvertently put the mate on the counter.

As Miss Davidson walked around to get the feel of the shoe, another woman wandered in and tried on the mate. Both decided that was the shoe for them.

But I already had the shoe on," said Miss Davidson.

"But it was sitting on the counter," said the other.

"They sat at opposite ends of the store and glared."

After 15 minutes, Hopper decided it was time for lunch.

Other clerks tried to solve the dispute. They suggested flipping a coin, or different colors. "Certainly not," was the answer.

Miss Davidson herself suggested: "Look, my right foot is a little larger than my left. I'll take the left 7 1/2 and a right 8 A, and you can have the others."

"No," said the other. "I picked this shoe up off the counter and..."

At 2:30 p.m. they were still sitting. Hopper was still at lunch.

Then in walked a reporter and photographer.

The unidentified woman kicked off the gray shoe, slipped on it, and disappeared out the door.

Miss Davidson paid for the shoes and left in triumph.

"You know something," said a clerk who had tried to act as peacemaker, "that shoe didn't fit either of them."

WARD'S NET INCOME $8,690,637

CHICAGO (AP)—Montgomery Ward and Co., big retail merchandising firm over which a battle for management control is expected to come to a head next April, today reported net income of $8,690,637 for the three months ended Oct. 31. This was equal to $1.28 a common share.

In the same three months last year the company had net income of $10,142,232, equal to $1.51 a common share.

For the nine months ended Oct. 31 this year net income totaled $21,092,239, equal to $3.08 a common share, compared with $25,874,205, equal to $3.82 a common share, in the like 1953 months.

SWEAR SWINDLE SWINDLES

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cook County Grand Jury Friday was reported to have voted a true bill charging a Chicago insurance broker with collecting exaggerated claims for clients.

The defendant is William J. Swindle.

Illinoisans Ask President's Aid Against Turnpike

CHICAGO (AP)—A group of suburban home owners, describing themselves as mostly Republicans opposed to a state toll road project, Friday asked President Eisenhower to help them.

Unless they get aid, they said, the Republican Party "is in grave danger of losing important support," and they might have to turn to Democrats for assistance.

The owners, unified in a group known as the Suburban Home Protective League, made their plea for help in a telegram to the President. They said they are solidly behind the President's interregional highway program but are opposed to the Illinois Toll Road Commission's plan to build a turnpike in the Chicago area. The entire state program is estimated at 600 million dollars.

The state program is supported by Gov. William G. Stratton, a Republican. He has labeled it one of the main projects of his administration.

In its telegram to Eisenhower, the league said it wanted the President to intercede with Stratton "to reconsider the ill advised" state toll road system.

EVEN HOME IS NOT SAFE

IN DEER HUNTING SEASON

FELCH, Mich. (AP)—No one it seems, is safe during the deer hunting season—not even washing dishes in your own kitchen.

That's what Mrs. Lillian Mattson, 37, of Felch was doing when a .22 calibre bullet—presumably from a hunter's rifle—crashed through her kitchen window and struck her in the stomach.

The bullet had lost most of its force and caused only a slight wound.

Felch is a village in Michigan's North Woods.

NEHRU CLAIMS RED CHINA WANTS PEACE

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said Friday night Red China's leaders told him during his recent visit to Peking they wanted "peaceful existence with those who are opposed to them."

They added, said Nehru, that they were "prepared to have friendly relations and diplomatic relations with all countries, including those opposed to them."

Kitty G. Sinclair, Former Saleslady, Dies At Hospital

Mrs. Kitty Wright Goff Sinclair, 55, well known businesswoman of Ashland and Jacksonville, died at 5:45 o'clock Friday morning at Our Saviour's hospital where she had been under treatment since Oct. 29 for a broken leg. A heart condition is believed to have been the cause of death.

Mrs. Sinclair was for 20 years saleslady for the Fuller Brush Co. in the Jacksonville area. More recently she was representative of the Real Silk Co. Mrs. Sinclair had a wide acquaintance in the Ashland and Jacksonville communities. She was going to the basement of her home in Ashland when she fell on the stairs, suffering the fracture for which she was hospitalized.

The decedent was born June 14, 1889, daughter of Edward E. and Mary Owen Goff. She was the widow of Carl W. Sinclair.

Her survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Stice of Ashland; a brother, William M. Goff, New Berlin, and a sister, Mrs. Rella Goff Hall of Jacksonville route 1.

Deputy Coroner Lloyd Markle conducted an inquiry at the hospital.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Ashland Baptist church with Rev. F. V. Wright officiating, assisted by Rev. J. W. Smith of Ashland.

Burial will be in the Yalvestille Cemetery.

The body will be removed from the Gainer Funeral home in Ashland to the residence at 10 o'clock Saturday morning where friends may call.

FIRE FIGHTERS TO BATTLE MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY

The Jacksonville fire department will stage a fast, four-day campaign to raise money for the fight against muscular dystrophy, to finance medical research projects in the race to find a cure against DM—an incurable, non-contagious, progressive disease of the muscles.

Student Voice Of Democracy Talks Will Be Judged

Plans have been made for all high school students of Morgan county and Community Unit School District No. 1 to participate in the eighth annual "Voice of Democracy" contest sponsored jointly by the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters and the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The "Voice of Democracy" program is a nation-wide broadcast script writing and voicing competition on the subject "I Speak for Democracy." Designed to give youth an opportunity to consider seriously and to speak in behalf of the blessings and the freedoms and opportunities traditional to this nation.

Norman Carlson, chairman of the local Jaycee Americanism Committee, announced that the local contest must be concluded by Tuesday, Nov. 30, and is open to all 10th, 11th, and 12th grade students Radio Station WLDL will transcribe the county finalists and is at present scheduling a series of sample addresses at 7:25 a.m. for students to use as a guide. Judging will be done by members of the Toastmasters Club.

All high school winners will receive recognition for their work. The city winner and county winner will each receive a $25 Government Bond. National winners, of which there are four, receive a $500 college scholarship check, a radio or television receiver, and a trip to Washington, D. C.

Rules and further information may be obtained from high school principals or the chairman, Norman Carlson.

ITR Stockholders Approve Sale

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P) — Stockholders of the Illinois Terminal Railroad Friday overwhelmingly approved the proposed sale of the line to a combine of nine railroads.

The vote was 394.479 in favor to 3.468 against. The remainder of the 500,000 shares did not vote. Approval required a two-thirds majority.

J. F. Cress, vice president and controller who announced the result, said the next step was up to the combine, which offered to buy the electric and diesel powered line for 20 million dollars.

H. W. Ward, ITR president, presided at the meeting of about a dozen stockholders. Most of the votes were cast by proxy.

Illinois Terminal officials said they anticipate that the combine now will make application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to consummate the purchase.

The bid to buy the ITR came from President Arthur K. Atkinson of the Wabash Railroad, serving as agent for the combine. It comprises the Baltimore and Ohio; Chicago and Eastern Illinois; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy; Gulf Mobile and Ohio; St. Louis-San Francisco; Litchfield and Madison; Illinois Central; Wabash, and Nickel Plate railroads.

But all members of Local 667, International Association of Fire Fighters will join in the battle against muscular dystrophy.

Santa Claus' Arrival Scheduled For Friday

Santa Claus will arrive in Jacksonville at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, Nov. 26, but the method he will use for transportation remains a mystery.

Santa will go directly to Central Park where his gaily decorated cabin will be ready for his occupancy. There he will distribute treats for the hundreds of children who are expected to be waiting for him.

Arrangements for the holiday event are being taken care of by the Retail Council of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce. A contest for children under 12 years of age is being held. The children will use blanks clipped from the Journal Courier to guess the method of transportation Santa Claus will use. Theater tickets will be given to those children who correctly guess his method of transportation.

Santa will be at his home from 2 to 4 o'clock each afternoon, beginning next Friday. On Saturday he will be at home from 10 to 11 o'clock in the morning, followed by his regular afternoon hours.

Radio Station WLDL will broadcast direct from Santa's cabin each day from 3 to 3:15 p.m.

Christmas music will be broadcast over a sound system to be installed in the park.

TV Executive Says Banks Is Within Law

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Milton Friedland, manager of television station WICS, said he is convinced the "TV Bank" program which began Wednesday night on the local station is not a lottery. A few hours before the program went on the air, State's attorney George Contrakon of Sangamon county had revealed he has asked an opinion on the question from the attorney general. The game is played like bingo, banned here several years ago.

In a statement, Friedland said the television station had notified an attorney in Washington of the proposed program, and he in turn informed the station operators that the show would not violate federal communications commission rulings, or the federal lottery law. "We take that to mean the game is certainly legal," Friedland said. He added that "dozens of other stations throughout the country, and at least one other in Illinois, carry similar shows. A program telecast in Rockford identical to the local program, he said. "Not one of these programs has been ruled off the air, or challenged," Friedland said.

The station manager said that no consideration is required of a player, since cards are given to any adult requesting them at the sponsoring food chain's stores, regardless of purchases. Merchandise awards are made.

Coroner's Jury Investigates Traffic Death

An inquest into the traffic injury death of Ellsworth Burnett, 51, Franklin farmer, was held Friday evening at the Nece Funeral Home in Franklin by William L. Howes, Morgan County coroner.

Burnett died a day following a head-on auto collision with a car driven by William Flynn, 27, of Waverly on the old Franklin-Waverly road on Nov. 9.

After hearing the testimony of 10 witnesses—principals in the crash and those who arrived at the scene shortly afterwards—the jury returned a verdict of "accidental death as a result of an automobile accident on the old Franklin-Waverly road. We, the jury, further recommend that this case be turned over to the proper Morgan County authorities for further investigation."

Plum, who has been held in custody at the county jail, went to Franklin to testify. Other witnesses included Gene and Gary Burnett, passengers in the other car; Martin L. Anderson, Ray Courter, Jr., Francis E. Hermes, Earl Gray, Virginia B. McNeely, Wayne McNeely and Deputy Sheriff Harry Timmons.

Coroner Hawks said that it was ascertained from testimony given by principal witnesses that neither car had its headlights on at the time of the collision, which occurred about 6:30 p. m.

Comprising the jury were Richard Hembrough, foreman; James H. Blair, A. E. Scott, John R. Bostic, Elbert McNeely and Otto Sprues.

Mrs. Shirley Ellering was the inquest stenographer.

CAUTIONS TURKEY GROWERS
WASHINGTON (P) — The Agriculture Department Friday cautioned turkey growers against excessive production and depressed prices in 1955.

The agency said in a statement that early development indicates a crop next year somewhat larger than this year's record of 81 million birds.

The statement pointed out that turkeys have been selling this year at substantially lower prices than last and could sell even lower the next if production is increased further.

The prospective increase is confined largely to heavy-type birds for which market demands have been decreasing.

JAPAN BABY HEAVYWEIGHT
NABARI CITY, Japan (P) — A 14-pound-12-ounce baby was born here last week and doctors said it may be a weight record for Japan. Kyodo News Service said the infant is 2 feet long. Most Japanese babies weigh less than 7 pounds and are about 1 foot long at birth.

Six Star Division Plans Solicitation In Hospital Drive

Executives and employees of industrial, retail, commercial firms, and governmental departments will have an important part in raising the $750,000 needed by Our Saviour's Hospital to construct a new wing and to modernize the institution, it was announced Friday by Gordon May, chairman of the Six Star Division which embraces six separate groups that are getting under way in their solicitation.

On Tuesday evening the industrial division under the chairmanship of Ralph Bourn held a meeting of company chairmen to discuss the participation of employees in the 50 industrial companies located in this area. Supplies were received and solicitation will start immediately.

Contact Public Departments
Edward H. Alexander, chairman of the government division, met with his chairmen at headquarters of the building fund in the Dunlap hotel on Wednesday afternoon to plan the solicitation among employees in the federal, state, county, and city departments.

Mrs. Betty Turner will serve as chairman of the Jacksonville State hospital; Thomas Kline and Arthur Yates will serve as co-chairmen of the School for the Deaf; and Mrs. Ella Bruce will head the soliciting group at Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School.

Under the joint chairmanship of Mrs. Mildred McKean and Earl Wallis all departments of the county will be organized to extend to all employees of Morgan county the opportunity of sharing in support of the hospital's building program.

All departments of the City of Jacksonville will be under the chairmanship of Mr. Ima B. Cline. In the college section of the Six Star Division the two colleges have named Lloyd Dudley chairman of Illinois College, and Miss Constance L. Raymaker chairman of MacMurray College. This division is being charmaned by Walter R. Bellam.

Business Division Active
The Business Division, B. M. Montee, chairman, is enlisting company chairmen in 78 retail and commercial companies located in Jacksonville. With the assistance of four vice chairmen: Howard F. Bussey, Edward Bonecort, Reginald Reid and Woodrow Hilsbeck, a group of 16 majors have been enlisted to contact all companies for the purpose of selecting a chairman in each firm. On Thursday evening this division met at the Dunlap hotel for instructions and supplies. Solicitation will start immediately in all companies cooperating in the plan.

Merle Wade, chairman of the School Division, announced Friday that all teachers in Jacksonville, Morgan county, Scott county, and parts of Greene and Cass county will participate in the campaign. The Jacksonville schools will be under the chairmanship of Supt. J. A. Mann; County Supt. Wilfrid Rice will serve as chairman of the Morgan county schools; Merle Baker of Hillview schools; C. C. Barlow of Roodhouse schools; Charles K. Barnett of the Patterson schools; and Fred Sheppard of the White Hall schools in Greene county. Miss Hester Korty, superintendent of Scott county schools will head the organization in her county. Leo Fitzgerald, will serve as chairman of the Ashland school solicitation.

Dr. R. P. Templin, chairman of the professional section of the six star division will select chairmen to head the appeal among dentists and lawyers.

Sunrise Service On Thanksgiving At Carrollton
CARROLLTON—The Rev. Elmer Satterfield of the local Presbyterian church will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon at the annual union sunrise Thanksgiving service to be held at 7 a.m. Thanksgiving morning in the local Methodist church.

The service will be conducted by the host pastor, the Rev. Walter B. Pruett, and music for the service will be sung by the choir of the host church. The Rev. Glenn Manis, pastor of the Baptist church will read the Scripture lesson and offer the prayer of thanks.

The responsive reading will be led by the Rev. C. S. Boyd of this city, a retired Methodist minister and former pastor of the local church.

CHILDREN TO SHARE MCGINNIS ESTATE
The will of the late Thomas B. McGinnis of Mercedia has been filed for probate, naming his children and a grandson as beneficiaries.

A cash bequest was made to a grandson, Edgar Lyle Sullivan. The remainder of the estate was left to the children in equal shares. The children are Roy M. McGinnis, Mark R. McGinnis, Birdie Gregory, Gladys Holms, Florence McDonald, Fern Tucker and Naomi Hamman.

Mark R. McGinnis was named executor of the will, which was made in December, 1949, witnessed by Charles Harbert and John H. Fricke.
